The editors of Journal of Urban History are receptive to varied methodologies and are concerned about the history of cities and urban societies in all periods of human history and in all geographical areas of the world. The editors seek material that is analytical or interpretive rather than purely descriptive, but special attention will be given to articles offering important new insights or interpretations; utilizing new research techniques or methodologies; comparing urban societies over space and/or time; evaluating the urban historiography of varied areas of the world; singling out the unexplored but promising dimensions of the urban past for future researchers.

Manuscripts should be submitted electronically to <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/juh> where authors will be required to set up an online account on the SAGETrack system powered by ScholarOne. Submission of a manuscript implies a commitment by the author to publish in the journal, if the manuscript is accepted, and the editors assume that any manuscript submitted to JUH is not currently under consideration by any other journal. Manuscripts should be no more than 30 pages typewritten double-spaced pages with footnotes, references, tables and figures on separate pages. Manuscripts are subjected to blind peer review and require the author's name(s) and affiliation listed on a separate page. Any other identification, including any references in the manuscript, the notes, the title, and reference sections should be removed from the paper and listed on separate pages. Accepted submissions must conform to the Chicago Manual of Style, 15th edition. Each submission should also include an abstract between 100-150 words, several keywords, and a brief biographical paragraph describing each author's current affiliation, research interests, and recent publications should also accompany the manuscript. Since manuscripts are reviewed anonymously, the author's name and affiliation should appear only on a separate covering page.

Evaluation of manuscripts involves the anonymous submission of contributions to at least two referees. Comments by the referees are advisory to the Editor and are transmitted anonymously to the author with a decision concerning publication. Every effort is made to complete the evaluation of manuscripts within three months.

Books for Review should be sent to Timothy Gilfoyle, Journal of Urban History, Department of History, Loyola University at Chicago, Chicago, IL 60626. Potential contributors of review essays are invited to correspond with Professor Gilfoyle via e-mail only at tgilfoy@luc.edu.
