

CONTENTS

Performance and Posthumanism: Co-Creation, Response-Ability and Epistemologies	1
Christel Stalpaert, Kristof van Baarle, and Laura Karreman
Co-creation with Thingly Matter: Dramaturgies
9 Variations on Things and Performance	51
André Lepecki
Does the Donkey Act? Balthazar as Protagonist	61
Maximilian Haas
Latent Performances. Conditions for Some Things to Happen	81
Daniel Blanga Gubbay
Aesthetics of Mykorrhiza. The Practice of Apparatus	93
Stefanie Wenner
On Composite Bodies and New Media Dramaturgy	111
Peter Eckersall and Kris Verdonck

Response-Ability in Thingly Variations: Politics and Ethics
Decoding Effet Papillon, a Choreography for Three Dancers Inspired by the World of Video Games	127
Mylène Benoit and Philippe Guisgand
The Refrain and the Territory of the Posthuman	137
Aline Wiame
The Right to Remain Forgotten and the Data Crimes of Post-digital Culture: A Ceaseless Traumatic Event	153
Matthew Causey
The Biography of a Digital Device: The Interwovenness of Human and Non-human Movements in Production and Distribution Processes as Thematized in the Artwork Rare Earthenware by Unknown Fields	171
Martina Ruhsam
Tentacular Thinking-With-Things in Storied Places. Parliament of Things (2019) by Building Conversation	195
Christel Stalpaert
Posthuman Epistemologies: The Politics of Knowledge Transmission
The Point of the Matter: Performativity in Scientific Practices	237
Maaïke Bleeker and Jean Paul Van Bendegem
Music Notation and Distributed Creativity: The Textility of Score Annotation	261
Emily Payne and Floris Schuiling
Spectators in the Laboratory: Between Theatre and Technoscience	287
Mateusz Borowski, Mateusz Chaberski, and Małgorzata Sugiera

A Hybrid Device to Choreograph the Gaze: Embodying Vision Through a Historical Discourse on Optics in Benjamin Vandewalle's Peri-Sphere	315
Dieter Brusselaers and Helena Julian
Index	337